NUCLEAR CAVITY—This huge cavity was created 1,200 feet underground in a salt bed 28 miles southeast of Carlsbad, New Mexico, by the Gnome detonation on Dec. 10, 1961, in the first experiment in peaceful uses of nuclear explosives. The hemispheric cavity 160 feet in diameter and 80 feet high, was formed by a nuclear detonation with a yield of about three kilotons (equal to 3,000 tons of TNT.) Note size of man standing on rocks at lower center. The experiment, designed to provide information on five technical objectives, was conducted for the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission by the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, Livermore, Calif., who released this picture Nov. 8.

Final Results Still Unknown In Four Gubernatorial Races

WASHINGTON (AP)—The election is over but the battle of the ballot box continues, and residents of four states may not know who their next governor is for several weeks.

And two losing Republican Senate candidates from South Dakota and Alabama have indicated they may challenge the first count of ballots that showed their Democratic opponents ahead.

The gubernatorial battles are in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Maine and Rhode Island. As of Friday night, unofficial figures showed Republican incumbents to be ahead in Maine and Minnesota while Democrats held tenuous leads in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts, Endicott Peabody jumped further ahead when the official canvass of Boston and some revisions in other areas gave him a 3,868-vote margin over Republican Gov. John A. Volpe. Both have taken out recount papers. The official canvass is expected next week.

Two remote North Woods precincts—the last two to be heard from—added to Minnesota Gov. Elmer L. Andersen's unofficial lead, but a 100-vote error was discovered in one county and by nightfall Republican Andersen's edge over Democratic Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag had dwindled to 51 votes with about half of the state's 87 counties officially canvassed.

The Minnesota Canvassing Board won't declare a winner until Nov. 20. Then either side may ask for a recount.

The Rhode Island question probably won't be settled before Nov. 21. Democratic Gov. John A. Notte held a 47-vote lead over Republican John H. Chafee in the unofficial count Tuesday. But State Board of Elections employees won't start tackling some 5,000 absentee ballots until Monday.

About 1,400 of these absentee ballots are from servicemen with 500 or so more still expected. By state law they can't be opened until Nov. 21.

In Maine the State Elections Division rushed work on the official tabulation, hoping to have it by Tuesday. Democrat Maynard C. Dooloff, who trailed Gov. John H. Reed by 405 votes in the unofficial count, has said he'll ask a recount, which probably could begin next Thursday and would take three to four weeks.

In South Dakota former Food for Peace Director George McGovern, a Democrat, went hunting, saying the question of his election to the Senate is "up to the tabulators and the lawyers."

McGovern led by 201 votes in the unofficial count. The State Canvassing Board doesn't meet until Dec. 6 to make an official declaration. Recount petitions may be filed as late as Dec. 16.

Sen. Joe Bottom, the Republican McGovern apparently unseated, said he planned to seek a recount.

Alabama Republicans said they would wait for the official canvass before deciding whether to ask a recount. With all but 79 boxes reported Democratic Sen. Lister Hill led Republican James D. Martin by 6,059 votes. The State Canvassing Board has until Nov. 21 to make its final tabulation.

Tanks Poised For Showdown In India Rift

Battle Expected Over Important Indian Airstrip

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian and Red Chinese tanks are reported poised on a bleak Himalayan plateau for an expected showdown battle over a strategic Indian airstrip on the western end of the rugged Himalayan front.

India flew light tanks to the nearly three-mile high Chushul airstrip in Ladakh, informed sources reported, to counter a Communist tank-reinforced build-up across the disputed border at Rudok in Tibet.

Communist tanks were seen only a few miles from the airstrip, an Indian Defense Ministry spokesman said.

The airfield is the only one the Indians have in the area and is vital to their supply line.

Only sporadic shelling and rifle fire were reported Friday in the northeastern sector of the frontier battlefield where Chinese have paused after early advances that threatened the thickly populated Assam Plains.

Both sides have reinforced their positions in Ladakh in the last 11 days.

Indian outposts in the area were overrun by Communist tanks in the initial Chinese offensive Oct. 20 and the Chinese surged swiftly toward Chushul, gaining control of all but 500 square miles of the 15,000-square mile Ladakh area.

Chinese troops were reported armed with Soviet-made AK47 automatic rifles, which are roughly comparable to the U.S. Army's M14s.

Unlike the steep mountain terrain in most of Ladakh, the frontier between Chushul and Rudok is fairly flat and barren, making tank warfare possible.

In Washington, the Defense Department said the U.S. airlift of light military arms that began last Saturday should be completed by Monday.

Department officials said India had not submitted any requests for additional weapons, but authorities here said U.S. Brig. Gen. John E. Kelly was due from Washington over the weekend to discuss further aid.

Prime Minister Nehru told a meeting of civil servants the government has started making automatic weapons that should be available in large quantities by next month.

Complexion Changed by Cuba Crisis

'Gitmo' Transformed Into U.S. Stronghold

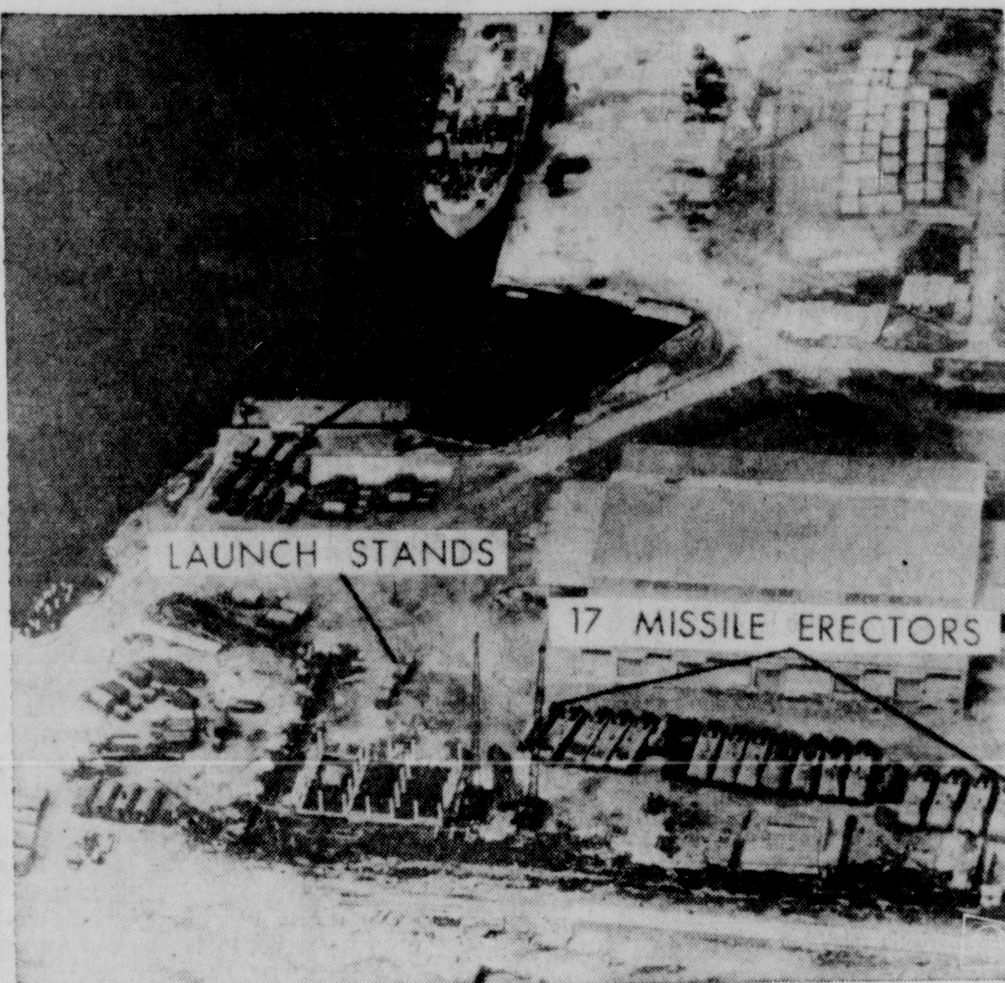

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—In just three weeks the U.S. naval base in eastern Cuba has been transformed into a fearsome stronghold.

The changes wrought by the Cuban crisis are startling. The base is bristling with combat-ready Marines brought here within five hours after they received orders at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Prior to the naval quarantine President Kennedy announced Oct. 22, this base was a relatively cheerful place. Sailors' wives tended flower gardens and their children attended school here.

The families were whisked out on short notice. Now bicycles lean forlornly against deserted porches and the gardens stand neglected.

Marines have dug in at outposts ringing the fenced base. All approaches are guarded by sandbagged checkpoints. The Marines carry new M14 rifles and light machine guns.
Tents dot the lush golf course and cactus-covered hillsides.

Six Injured In Crash West Of Alliance

ALLIANCE — An Alliance mother, her four children and her brother are in Alliance City Hospital following the collision of the car which she was driving and a truck at 4:05 p.m. Friday, one tenth of a mile west of Alliance on Route 62.

Each of the six accident victims was reported in "fair" condition today. The truck driver escaped without injury.

State highway patrolmen said the mishap happened when Mrs. Patricia Helsel, 30, of RD 3, Alliance, was attempting to back out of a parking lot at the Highway Market. Intending to turn west, Mrs. Helsel accidentally crossed over into the eastbound lane. An empty coal truck being driven east by George Logan Reed, 29, of RD 1, Rogers, struck the right front and side of the Helsel car.

Admitted to the hospital were: Mrs. Helsel, with lacerations of scalp and multiple contusions, and her children, Cathy, 12, lacerations of the right arm and injuries of the leg; Rebecca, 8, skull and pelvis injuries; Daryl, 9, multiple contusions, and Philip, 5, lacerations of the forehead and face; and Mrs. Helsel's brother, Gene Peters, 18, of Ashland, spine injuries.

3 Persons Injured In Friday Traffic Mishaps

Eight accidents investigated this morning and Friday by state highway patrolmen of the Lisbon and Canfield barracks resulted in injuries to three persons. Three motorists were arrested.

Roads made slippery by driving rain were a factor in several of the mishaps.

Injured was Kenneth R. Hardy, 19, of Homeworth. He was driving north on County Road 404 about three miles north of North Geo-

Clerk's Trial In Shortage Is Postponed

LISBON — The embezzlement trial of Miss Roberta C. Smith, 36, of Fairmont St., East Liverpool, was postponed today from Tuesday until Nov. 26.

The trial for embezzlement of $23,841.79 in funds found missing in the water and sewage departments at East Liverpool, was set to begin Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, but was continued because several witnesses were unable to appear next week.

Miss Smith was clerk in the municipal department. Assignment Commissioner Norman Ward today announced postponement of the trial.

In place of this trial, Judge Sharp will be asked to hear the case of Mrs. Jane Case of Columbiana, who demands that county commissioners return her to her telephone operator's position in the Courthouse.

Mrs. Case was found guilty of engaging in political activities but instead of being fired, the State Personnel Board of Revision ruled she should just be suspended until Sept. 15.

An appeal from this ruling was filed by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw in behalf of the two Republican commissioners on two grounds—(1) the order of the Personnel Board is not supported by reliable, probation and substantial evidence, and (2) the order is not in accordance with the law.

Judge Sharp has heard testimony on suspension of the board's order that an unusual hardship will result on the appellants if she is ordered rehired, but has not given his decision, and it's not expected forthcoming until the entire issue is decided.

U.S. Officials Still Demand On-Site Checks

More Concern Shown On Presence In Cuba Of Soviet Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the 40-odd Soviet missiles secretly installed in Cuba are reported on their way back to Russia. The rest are due to be headed home by Monday night. Soviet Premier Khrushchev is also understood to be pulling out several thousand military technicians assigned to the Cuban rocket bases.

But there were indications the end of the U.S. blockade may not be soon.

Khrushchev's cleanup of the known missile sites—and at an unexpected speed—coincides with the apparent end of Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's mission to Havana.

U.S. officials now take it Mikoyan has failed in any effort he may have made to pressure Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro into accepting international inspection to verify removal of the missiles and dismantling of the bases.

In Havana, Mikoyan was reported to have conferred again Friday night with Castro after having spent Thursday touring collective farms with him. But Washington officials believe Mikoyan may leave this weekend.

So far as President Kennedy is concerned, officials said, this assumed failure of Mikoyan means Khrushchev will not live up to that part of his Cuban crisis agreement that called for international verification.

Kennedy, informants added, plans to maintain prolonged naval blockade and aerial surveillance of the island to safeguard against any new sneak Soviet operation.

The U.S. Navy began Friday to intercept merchant ships hauling the Soviet rockets away from Cuba.

The missiles were loaded as deck cargo and photographs made public showed eight on one ship and six on each of two other vessels.

Meredith Scoffs At Rumors He'll Leave Ole Miss

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—University of Mississippi student James H. Meredith relaxed and conferred here today on a long weekend that has aroused reports he may withdraw from school.

The 29-year-old Negro, who entered the university during the bloody riots that took two lives five weeks ago, unexpectedly left the Oxford, Miss., campus Thursday, missing two examinations.

However, Meredith laughed off the reports that he might withdraw.

"I'll have to refer you back to whoever made those reports," he told reporters who greeted him on his arrival here. But he declined to say why the early departure.

Justice Department spokesmen said the decision to leave early was Meredith's and had nothing to do with the Chattanooga-Ole Miss football game set for this afternoon, the first home game for Mississippi since Meredith became the first Negro enrolled at Ole Miss.

In Washington, Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said Meredith's abrupt departure from Ole Miss was caused by a desire to ease the stress under which he has been during much of his stay there.

Meredith went into a long conference here with Negro Attorney A. W. Willis Jr., who frequently represents the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and who has advised Meredith during the Mississippi integration struggle.

Funeral Services Set Today for Mrs. FDR

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—The great and the humble gathered today at this Hudson River Valley community to pay their final respects to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The mourners represent the same cross-section of the world that had made the sad journey 17 years ago to attend the funeral of her husband—the 32nd President of the United States.

President Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, head the list attending the service in St. James Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Gordon L. Kidd will conduct the services, as he did at the funeral of President Roosevelt in 1945.

Mrs. Roosevelt will rest beside her husband in the family burial plot in the rose garden of the Roosevelt estate where she spent much of her time between a busy schedule over many years.

The former First Lady's family directed that the service and burial be attended only by those invited. This list included former presidents, heads of world organizations, cabinet members, civic and church leaders, educators and entertainers.

Mrs. Roosevelt died at 78 Wednesday in her New York City residence a short while after she had been discharged from a hospital suffering with anemia, complicated by tuberculosis.

Former President Harry S. Truman was one of the first to accept an invitation to attend, as did former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On her death, tributes came from queens, presidents and prime ministers, organizations of all faiths and leaders of the down-trodden for whose causes she battled.

From behind the Iron Curtain Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev expressed sorrow at her passing. It was at Val-Kill, her cottage on the estate, that Mrs. Roosevelt entertained Khrushchev and his wife at a luncheon in 1960.

Adlai E. Stevenson U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, eulogized her in a special tribute at the U.N. Friday.

He summed up her life in repeating what he had said shortly after learning of her death: "She would rather light candles than curse the darkness. And her glow warmed the world."

Mailing Season at Hand for Gifts to Overseas Servicemen

Persons who wish to send gifts to members of the armed forces overseas and their families should get the parcels in the mail soon if the presents are to reach their recipients by Christmas, Postmaster Ray Reasbeck said today.

Regular mail parcels and greeting cards may be sent until Nov. 20 with the assurance that they will be received by Christmas.

The period for airmail cards and parcels is Dec. 1 to 10.

Authorized United States civilian employes overseas who receive their mail through an APC number, a fleet post office, or a navy post office are also included in this category, Reasbeck said.

All articles to be mailed overseas should be packed in boxes of wood, metal solid fiberboard, or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard. Fiberboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper tied with strong cord.

Boxes may be crushed unless they are completely packed and tightly filled. Enough cushioning material should be used to prevent rattling or loosening of the articles in the package. A slip of paper naming the addressee and giving a list of the contents should be enclosed in each parcel.

In addition to articles usually prohibited in the mails, matches and lighter fluid may not be sent to overseas military addresses. Some military post offices will not accept parcels containing cigarettes, other tobacco products, and coffee. The post office will answer questions concerning other prohibited items.

Packages may be sent by domestic postage rates, and all postage must be fully prepaid. When fourth class parcel post rates are applicable the zone rate from the post office where the package is mailed to the post office through which the parcel is addressed will be charged.

Airmail articles weighing no more than eight ounces are chargeable at the rate of 7 cents an ounce. Those weighing more than eight ounces will cost 80 cents a pound to send. Addresses must be legible and complete and should be typed or printed with ink.

Granges

Garfield Plans Party

A committee comprised of Robert McCracken and Misses Bette Morrow and Vicki Tetlow was appointed to make arrangements.

The group donated $5 to the Christmas seal fund.

Practicing a play to which was to have been presented at Smith Grange occupied the remainder of the time.

The next meeting will be Nov. 20.

Smith Has Meeting

The first and second degree were exemplified to 12 candidates from Perry, Greenford and Smith granges, with Mrs. Hoy Smith, degree team captain, in charge.

Mrs. Alice Stratton and Mrs. John Hammond, Sr. were appointed to the flower committee, and Mrs. Glenn Turner, Mrs. Russell Woolman and Mrs. Merlin Stanley were appointed to the community service committee.

Announcements were made of the exchange meeting tonight and the county officers meeting Monday.

Mrs. Lester Myers gave a report of last year's home economics committee's work.

Wendell Stanley and Lester Myers are reported on the sick list.

Recognition was given to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Irvin for their golden wedding anniversary and a decorated cake was presented to them by Mrs. Hoy Smith, who was also in charge of the luncheon.

North Benton

Carl Phillips, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Phillips of North Benton, became an Eagle Scout in a ceremony at North Benton Presbyterian Church recently.

A member of Troop 153 of Maple Ridge School, he has been active in Scouting six years and has received the God and Country award. He has been a Salem News carrier for three years.

Also receiving the Eagle Scout Award last night was Robert Ritchie, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ritchie of RD 4, Alliance, who also has the God and Country Award.

It's strange how a man's mind works...

My wife had said, "The keys are on the table," and we both were thinking of the car keys. I have that abominable habit of laying them down wherever I put my gloves — and I'm always losing my gloves.

But when I saw the keys, I saw the Bible, too. We always keep it there even though we seldom read it.

"The keys are on the table." I am just enough of a philosopher to see the chance implication of those words. The keys to a great many things must lie within the covers of that Book. Perhaps the keys to all of the really important things for you, and for me, and for everyone else.

We've been searching far and wide for the keys to peace, and security, and fairness, and brotherhood.

I wonder if the keys are on the table!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Unsynchronized' Traffic Lights

Traffic congestion in downtown Salem during Friday evening's steady rainfall could have been prevented by two things, we believe:

1. A better system of synchronized signal lights.
 2. Policemen out directing traffic.
- Evening shopping hours, coupled with a more-than-normal flow of traffic due to the bad weather and motorists en route to a last football game of the season, combined to make traffic move at a snail's pace. Drivers on side intersections trying to merge with bumper to bumper traffic on principal thoroughfares compounded the situation.
- Lucky was the motorist who wasn't caught in it.

IF THE CITY OF SALEM HAD a master control device at City Hall and policemen out walking a beat, an officer could have spotted the traffic tie-up, radioed the police station and had all the traffic signals controlled simultaneously so that the streets could have virtually cleared within minutes. As it was, it took a driver 15 minutes last night to proceed the distance of one block.

After the First Nov. 11

No one who remembers when Armistice Day began can think of Nov. 11 without longing for an emotion whose strength has not been equalled since the end of World War I.

Americans knew then more clearly and certainly than they have known anything since then that their participation in the war had made the world safe for democracy. Their republic had interceded in the tangle and corrupt affairs of the Old World and it was a foregone conclusion in the closing weeks of 1918 that the Old World would benefit permanently from the cool, sure touch of the saviors from America.

It was in everybody's heart that the American men who had died on European soil must not have died in vain; that their government forthwith would win the peace as handily as they had won the war.

THERE WAS to be an end once and for all to despotism.

The Divine Right of Kings had been fractured and scattered to the winds.

The victors would be magnanimous and the losers would be grateful for their magnanimity.

Civilization had been born anew, free from its shortcomings and grotesqueries.

When the Americans came marching home they were knights returning from a crusade. Americans felt good about the way the United States had broken out of isolationism. Johnny marched home like a crusader who had slain all the dragons. He felt good.

The buddies who were killed "over there" were hostages to the good faith of the nation that had pledged itself to destroy despotism forever.

EMOTION has been blunted since World War I. The pure motives and the exalted dreams are something less than they used to be. Armistice Day now comes and goes under a new title—Veterans Day.

The United States has intervened in many places since World War I, and it has not been clear on all occasions what it was fighting to preserve. Certainly not democracy, when it intervened to save kings and despots. Certainly not freedom when it let its resources to save the apparatus of oppression.

All honor to veterans. They have earned it.

But after the first Nov. 11 it never has been as easy as it was then to know what our veterans did when they carried out orders to fight and die if need be.

They, themselves, have never been as sure of their purpose since the first time.

Every turn-down of a school levy should be interpreted as a vote of no-confidence in the board of education and should lead to the immediate resignation of the board, thus precipitating in the entire school district a state of educational crisis.

This would make all voters think twice before taking out spite against taxes by voting against school levies. If they took out spite anyway, which would happen sometimes, the ensuing crisis in education would make everybody think thrice before doing that again.

It also would give board members something to think about. People willing to take these thankless jobs would be easier to line up if they could get out of the pressure cooker whenever their neighbors turned down a school levy.

We think it's a good idea. Every time voters beat another school levy it looks better.

Folks already are buying Christmas wrapping paper that kids will rip off the toys they'll break.

An Ohio man who smashed a juke box in a restaurant was adjudged insane. At times we're all crazy to do that.

How to Protect School Levies

Sombody wants to know how to keep voters from knocking off school levies willy-nilly.

The idea is that these same voters keep compulsory school attendance laws on the books while retaining the right to withhold school funds. It doesn't make sense to have compulsory attendance without compulsory support; that is the reasoning.

Having commented on this before without too-violent consequences, we repeat the same comment with the same conviction behind it.

Musical Treat

Another musical treat is in store for district residents Sunday afternoon when the Salem American Legion Quaker Band gives its annual fall concert in the Junior High auditorium.

Few communities are privileged to have a musical aggregation as renowned as the Quaker City band which has held the Ohio Legion championship for a number of years and not too long ago won the national title. Each bandman is an accomplished musician in his own right.

A filled auditorium would be a real tribute to our band which many people see in parades but too few hear at concert time.

Umpire-Baiters

Some of my friends won't like this. It's about umpires. It's about people who must act like umpires, whether they have the title or not. Referees, parents, cops, administrators. They're all umpires.

They take a beating from second-guessers. We never thought second-guessers bothered baseball umpires, or the football and basketball referees. Nor did we ever think people who don't know what they're talking about bothered cops, administrators and parents. They forgive their critics for being ignorant.

As a parent, it never bothered me when spinsters and bachelors second-guessed me. I won't even bugged when other parents gave me a hard time.

I thought they should know enough to keep their mouths shut unless they knew the facts.

A famous National League umpire, Larry Goetz, was called out, swinging, a few days ago. Old-time ballplayers who had gone the route with him for nearly a quarter of a century in their rough-and-tumble occupation knuckled the moisture out of their eyes.

Goetz was one of the good ones. But it didn't save him from being jawed and lipped by hundreds of second-guessers in his time—not fans, who knew no better, but ball players and managers, who did.

This is hard to take. People who do it reveal something contemptible about themselves.

Without an arbiter to keep them from mouthing each other, they couldn't make survive. Yet they are always jawing the means of their survival.

Some of my best friends are umpire-baiters. They second-guess everybody who must make quick, arbitrary decisions, from chief executives to traffic cops.

To listen to them, they know more about decisions than anyone else, especially decisions that go against them. Then can out-decision every cop, judge, general, coach, manager, umpire, referee and administrator who ever lived.

They can outguess all athletes who turn the wrong way, throw to the wrong base, or zig when they should have zagged. This doesn't matter if they are in no position to know the truth. It's harmless bad sportsmanship.

But if they know the truth and still do it, they're beyond help.

When decision-makers are loud-mouthed by people in a position to know what they are doing, for no better reason than to show contempt for their authority, that's the limit.

It's not too much to hope that when some of these creepies hit the dirt on the long side home they will look up into the glowering faces of the Larry Goetzes who preceded them and hear the fateful decree, "Yer out!"

It would make them easier to bear if you could be sure they were going to lose their last and silliest second guess.

More Republicans Than Dems Vote In Elections

By DAVID LAWRENCE

More Republican than Democratic votes were cast last Tuesday throughout the nation for senators and governors in the statewide races outside the 11 states of the "Solid South."

David Lawrence

figures show that the vote for Republican candidates in the senatorial contests totaled 18,551,149 as against 18,074,307 for the Democratic candidates. The percentage was 50.6 Republican and 49.4 Democratic.

The same trend appeared in the vote for governors outside the 11 Southern states. The Republicans polled 17,256,261, or 51.9 per cent of the total, while the Democrats polled 15,990,095, or 48.1 per cent.

When the senatorial totals this year are compared with results in all states in the presidential voting in 1960 — outside the 11 Southern states — a slight Republican gain appears. Two years ago the Nixon percentage outside the South was 50.3 and the Kennedy percentage was 49.7.

AS FOR THE governorship totals outside the South, the Republicans' 51.9 per cent this year is 1.6 percentage points above what it was in the presidential voting in the nation in 1960 apart from the Southern states.

These are Republican gains which do not show up in the number of senators elected. The Democrats actually gained three and possibly four seats in the Senate due to factional fights in the Republican party or local conditions. But the majorities were narrow in several instances where Democratic senators won re-election.

The figures are significant, however, because they show that the relative position of the two parties on a numerical basis in the North is about the same as it was in 1960.

As for the South, there were some close races in which Republicans polled an unusually high vote. They almost elected a senator in Alabama, where, out of a total vote of more than 394,500, only about 7,000 votes separated the two major parties. This is unprecedented.

Also, if the 1962 election results for governors were transformed into electoral votes today, President Kennedy could not be re-elected. Actually, he couldn't have been elected in 1960 without the electoral votes of the Southern states.

So the nation has been given another demonstration of the balance of power held by the 11 states in the South. The two-party system has been operating to some extent in Texas, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee in presidential races, but this is not true in congressional contests generally — though this time the Republicans in the South have captured 11 seats in the House and they have a senator from Texas.

If a two-party system were to be established in state and local as well as in presidential and congressional contests in the South, the Democratic party might have a hard time winning the presidency of a majority in Congress.

While it is well known, for instance, that many of the Democrats in the south are on the conservative and anti-radical side, there are others in the so-called "liberal" category. Various Republican candidates for Congress in the Southern areas, moreover, campaigned this year on the issue that their opponents were not sufficiently Southern in their viewpoint and didn't protest vigorously enough the sending of federal troops to Mississippi.

There are signs that the South may be ready for a bolt from the Democratic party in the next presidential election. It could turn out that the misuse of federal power attributed to President Kennedy in the South could cost him electoral votes next time.

The tendency heretofore has been for the independents to support a "states' rights" ticket for the electoral college, but the movement has not been organized intensively. This is because the Democratic members of Congress from the South feel they cannot desert their party, as it might lose them the chairmanships of important committees or seniority in rank.

THERE MAY COME a time when the Southern states will elect to Congress many more Republican senators and representatives to take up their cause as against those on the Democratic side who wobble on issues vital to the Southern states.

Certainly this week's elections prove that the Republican and Democratic voter strength outside the "Solid South" is about even today across the nation and that inroads can be made even in the South by candidates from the conservative side nominated on the Republican ticket.

This, plus the narrow majorities of the Democratic senators in some of the larger states in the North and the winning of Republican governorships in such states as Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio — where the electoral votes at stake are large — can hardly be interpreted as a Kennedy "victory." It looks more like a Republican upsurge and the manifestation of a decidedly conservative trend among the voters.

Except for the many millions of dollars raised by the labor unions and used in the campaigns mostly in behalf of Democrats, the story on the gains and losses in the House and Senate might have been different.

Never in history has so much money been spent in a congressional campaign by labor unions as was expended this year. It mostly for "precinct workers" who use various means of persuasion to "line up the vote." But, even so, the Republican vote outnumbered the Democratic in the state-wide contests outside the South.

Back to Geneva

By RICHARD SPONG

Four years of talking at Geneva have produced no miracle, so it would be illogical to expect one from the resumption there of the 17-nation disarmament conference. Nevertheless, events of the two-month recess offer at least a small basis for optimism when talks resume Monday.

The first and chief reason for hope is that in Cuba the Soviet Union appears to have accepted the principle of international inspection. In the past the Soviet Union has been unyielding in its demand for a power of veto over on-site inspections of suspected clandestine tests of nuclear weapons.

Quite obviously Soviet Premier Khrushchev is not bound to accept the idea that what is proper for astro's Cuba should be the rule for the Soviet Union. Nevertheless, the agreement on inspection of missile sites in Cuba at least strengthens a Western talking point in Geneva.

THE DEADLOCK on banning nuclear weapons tests goes back to the Baruch plan of 1946. The talks now being resumed in Geneva are the result of a resolution adopted unanimously by the United Nations General Assembly last December.

This, a kind of East-West compromise in its final form, asked "as a matter of urgency" that the new disarmament body seek agreement on "general and complete disarmament under effective international control."

Prior to the talks which began last March, American, British, and Soviet representatives had been engaging in what has been called the "dialogue among death men" since Oct. 31, 1958. The nuclear powers had agreed on 18 sections of a draft treaty; the sticking point was the Russian insistence on veto power over inspection.

Soviet resumption of atmospheric testing last September dashed any remaining hopes for agreement on this point, and on last Jan. 29, after 353 sessions, the prolonged three-way conference was adjourned.

In the 17-nation discussions the East will be represented, as in the past, by the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Romania. The West was to have been represented by the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, and Canada, but President de Gaulle has taken the position that there's no point in talking with the Soviet Union at this time.

Eight relatively independent nations are participating: Mexico and Brazil, representing Latin America; Burma and India, for Asia; Ethiopia, Nigeria, and the United Arab Republic, for Africa; and the Middle East, and Sweden, a neutral European nation.

THE UNITED STATES has a certain psychological advantage as the body reconvenes. The atmospheric tests we resumed in late April — our most extensive tests since 1945 — were concluded on Nov. 4. The Soviet Union, which began testing again in August after a pause, is apparently still in the midst of its planned series.

The Russians recently have been dropping hints that one way out of the inspection dilemma might be to utilize sealed seismic boxes that periodically could be shipped to an international authority to determine if there had been any clandestine explosions.

Such a system was suggested by 213 scientists from 35 countries at the tenth Pugwash conference in London two months ago. But President Kennedy's statement of Nov. 4 repeated the American demand for a test ban that could be "effectively verified," and it was made clear at the White House that we still were holding out for some on-site inspections.

'Bring the Boys Home'

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS

Herald Tribune News Service

WASHINGTON — It is as American as hotdogs and baseball to win the war and lose the peace.

After World War II, the cry from Main Street was "bring the boys home" and never mind the damage this does to America's power position in the world — a position that had required so many lives, so much agony to build. So the boys went home, and there went Eastern Europe right into Russia's pocket, despite all the Yalta pledges of free-in-spection elections.

After Korea, America made a deal that convinced Peking — and most of Asia — that this country had become a paper tiger. These are not the only instances of the same sad sequence of events.

IS THERE a possibility that the Communists will succeed in subverting the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement on Cuba and nullify the gains made by the New Frontier in containing Moscow's aggression in this hemisphere? Will it be said of the Cuban deal — as it was of Yalta — that it was sound in principle but badly implemented?

So far, thankfully, there is no disposition whatsoever by President Kennedy or any of his top advisers to underestimate the disastrous potential should Premier Khrushchev be permitted to wiggle out of his clear and public commitments that nuclear weapons be removed from Cuba under U.N. observation and supervision.

But there are strong pressures building up, especially among the neutralists, to persuade Kennedy to be "magnanimous in victory" and release Khrushchev from his promise of on-site U.N. inspection of weapons removal.

IN CONNECTION with these pressures, the question is put this way: What difference would on-site inspection in Cuba make if aerial surveillance and intelligence information make it reasonably certain that these weapons are enroute back to Russia? Wasn't it the physical presence of nuclear capable weapons that was the main danger?

These questions miss some vital points, including the technical one that aerial surveillance is not a totally reliable check on what may be left behind, if a weapon has been deliberately stashed away in a cave or otherwise camouflaged.

More important, the military a strategic danger posed by the presence of Soviet missiles in Cuba was only one part of the challenge. Russia risked its missiles in Cuba because it wanted to test its thesis that America was unwilling or afraid to use its great power even in the defense of its own vital interests.

The enormous psychological advantage gained by the U.S. — an advantage that can pay off in Berlin, Vietnam, Laos — was to show the Russians that the U.S. was neither paralyzed by fear of nuclear war, nor unwilling to use its power, nor afraid.

THIS PSYCHOLOGICAL point cannot fail to give pause to any opponent in contemplating any future showdown anywhere — provided it is not eroded by over-eagerness to make concessions when the battle is already won.

To lose this psychological advantage — or psychological deterrent — would be to lose the most important fruit of the showdown in the Caribbean.

There is something else. Breakthrough promises is a Bolshevik specialty. But for once the world has a Bolshevik promise that the U.S. has the power to make real (despite Mikoyan's attempt to up the ante) by refusing to deliver America's quid until the Bolshevik quo is delivered.

President Kennedy made his promise to lift the quarantine and to guarantee there would be no invasion conditional on inspection of the Soviet military withdrawal. No inspection, therefore, must mean no lift in the quarantine and no assurances to Castro or the Russians against invasion.

WHAT OF CASTRO? Officials here claim that Fidel's economy is beset by disaster, with some areas subject to starvation. Cuba is totally dependent on Moscow.

Is that any ground for believing that in the long run Castro can resist inspection if the U.S.S.R. really urges it — especially if his alternatives are even tighter quarantine and new pressures from the U.S.?

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Are you tired of fried chicken and potatoes? Try this for a change: Boil a hen until it falls apart. Don't just boil the hen in plain water. Let me tell you what I found out.

Any time I boil an old hen, young hen, or just a hen . . . no matter how old she was . . . I boil it in "chicken stock base." This is a condiment now on the market. You will find it in your spice department at your local grocery store.

I always put at least one rounded teaspoon of chicken base stock (it comes in many brands) into the water anytime I boil a chicken. This gives it more flavor than you can imagine!

Your chicken can be boiled in the morning. After it literally falls apart, turn off the fire, remove the lid from the pot and let it cool. Place the chicken on a platter. After it cools, remove all of the meat from the bone. Cast the bones aside.

Now here's what is going to make it so good.

Dip as much of this rejuvenated broth from the stock that you have just cooked — example, if you use packaged, precooked rice like I do, dip one cup of this stock into another pan with one cup of water. Add a pinch of saffron and bring this to a boil. Then dump in two cups of rice, slam the lid on, twist the lid a little bit — this somehow seals the lid and prevents the moisture from escaping.

Put the chicken that you have stripped from its bones back into the stock. Bring to a slow boil and make your gravy thickening. Into this thickening put another pinch of saffron. Within minutes this gravy has turned into a beautiful golden yellow, succulent dish. Too, this makes one old hen go a long way!

But here's where you are going to be most surprised. Just wait until you remove the top from that plain old rice. It will be brilliant yellow with a flavor all it's own.

Often, I add chopped pimientos and chopped green peppers and celery. This gives it color.

Now, in case you do not have pimiento, peppers or celery, vary it from week to week by using chopped stuffed olives. This way you have red and green. It changes the taste of the rice again, making an entirely new dish.

When putting the chicken and gravy into your serving dish, always top it with fresh ground pepper! This is another aroma that whets our palates.

Place serving of rice on plate, top with the chopped chicken in gravy and watch your family eat! Watch for a stewing chicken on sale. Pick up your saffron at the same time, and don't forget to buy a small bottle of chicken stock base.

The leftover chicken and gravy can be varied the next day by hard boiling some eggs . . . removing the yellow, chopping up the whites into little bite-sized pieces and putting them into the gravy itself as you reheat it. Simply put a few pieces of toast in your toaster. Slice diagonally, lay this on your plate, pour on some of that chicken and gravy which contains your chopped egg whites. Take the hard boiled yellow and using your grater — grate the egg yolks on top of this open faced sandwich!

Serve with something red and something green, such as tomatoes and lettuce.

It's easy, quick and on cloud nine! Happy Eating!

DEAR HELOISE: In the raised eyebrow department comes this trick: We use fiberglass curtains in all of our bedrooms. Where do we wash them? In our bathtub, naturally! I hang them on a shower rod and this saves me many steps. Our household sure misses a lot of aggravation around here by spending a couple of minutes in the evening . . . setting the breakfast table in relative leisure.

This not only saves putting away the dishes and silver, but having to take them out again.

PAT GORMAN

DEAR HELOISE: What is the best way to hang my husband's socks on the line—from the toe or from the top? My mother always claimed that they should be hung from the top, so the toes will get plenty of fresh air and not have them dry under a clothes pin. I have always hung them that way, but a lot of my neighbors hang them from the toe!! Which would you say is right?

CLARE

Why not try the middle? This way you please your mother, your neighbors and yourself . . . but will it please your husband? HELOISE

Cuba

Newsman aboard a Navy patrol plane Friday night saw an American destroyer sweep in beside the Soviet freighter Anosov, catch it in the glare of a powerful search light and by signals arrange to inspect it after daybreak today.

"We have arranged an inspection without boarding," the destroyer Barry reported by radio. This will include a closeup view by daylight and photographs, the inspection pattern reported to have been followed Friday.

The Anosov appeared to be heavily loaded with military equipment, including what looked like eight missiles.

The Soviet government had agreed to let the ships be checked by the Navy so that the United States would know that missiles were going back across the Atlantic.

It was reported here that nine Soviet ships would be involved in a rocket retreat from Cuba and the Soviet government has informed Washington the operation would be finished by Monday night.

At the United Nations, a Soviet representative was reported Friday night to have given U.S. officials a list of 42 missiles and their supporting equipment and to have promised that all would be out of Cuba by Monday.

Earlier in the week, Khrushchev put the number of Soviet missiles in Cuba at 40. U.S. officials said then that this figure was a little low, but indicated the actual total known to the United States was under 45.

As the missile menace decreased, the Kennedy administration showed relatively more concern about the continued presence in Cuba of Soviet IL28 jet bombers, which are capable of delivering nuclear bombs on U.S. targets.

The impression here is that Castro would like to keep the planes. More than two dozen such bombers are understood to be on Cuban territory.

But Kennedy has labeled them as offensive, and Khrushchev agreed at the height of the Cuban crisis to remove all the offensive weapons to which Kennedy objected.

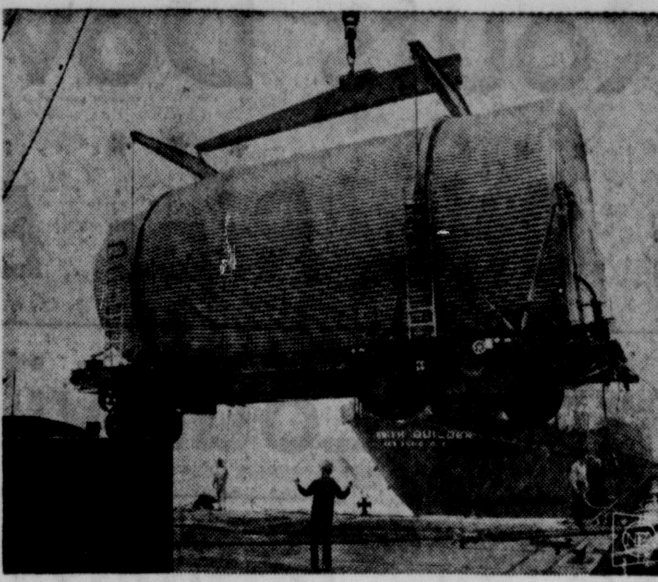

Officials said Kennedy does not intend to release Khrushchev from this commitment.

What Does A Boy Do When He's Not In School?

The job of bringing up a young teen-age boy isn't easy. One of the biggest problems is this: What can he do—when he's not in school—which will contribute most toward the achievement of the goals which you have set for him in later life? There are extra-curricular activities, of course. Some of these are worthwhile. But just how valuable are they in contributing to the overall education which he will need in order to become a useful, successful citizen?

Few activities contribute more significantly to a boy's development than his own newspaper business. The practical experiences gained by a newspaperboy directly supplement his school work. Moreover, he learns to be punctual, courteous, and friendly; he learns to manage time and money; he learns how to accept responsibility and develops qualities of leadership. And as he learns, he earns.

with a NEWSPAPER BUSINESS of his own and his parents behind him a GREAT FUTURE lies ahead

Farm Bureau To Consider Resolutions

Taxation, national farm program and bargaining are issues to be voted upon by 247 official delegates to the annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation in Columbus Monday through Wednesday, according to Allen Chamberlin, Leetonia RD 2, president of County Farm Bureau Federation.

The final session of the 15-member state policy development committee now has completed its classification of recommendations from farmers in every Ohio county.

"More than 4,000 ideas thus far have been submitted to the committee of 10 county Farm Bureau presidents and five members of the state board of trustees," Chamberlin said.

Upon preparing a tentative slate of some 250 proposed policies for action by elected delegates, the committee found the largest number of responses making these recommendations:

1—Eliminate or reduce personal property taxes, and initiate in Ohio a state personal income tax as a source of revenue to help pay predicted higher costs of education, highways and other programs.

2—Congress should provide for a conservation reserve program of retiring land over an extended period of time and write a voluntary feed grain program similar to the one now in effect.

3—Strengthen farmers' bargaining power through their cooperatives as a direct marketing agent for farm products.

These, and other policy suggestions from farmers in Ohio, will be voted upon Wednesday, the final day of the annual meeting, Chamberlain said.

Inspired Salem Routs Dover 12-0 In Final

Columbiana Notches 8th, Rips East Palestine 32-0

Beery, Begalla Chalk Up TD's

Quakers' Defense Stop Tornadoes Cold

An inspired Salem High School football team ended its season with a sparkling display of power as it shut out Dover 12-0 last night in the Tuscarawas county city.

The Quakers went into the contest as underdogs, having dropped three of their last four, but took command in the first quarter and controlled the football most of the rainy evening.

Coach Blaine Morton's squad blocked and muffed heavily. The Quakers picked up 18 first downs and held the Tornadoes to five.

VERSATILE BILL BEERY turned in an outstanding job. He worked the rollout series with perfection and scored Salem's first touchdown on a 13-yard run in the first period.

Junior fullback George Begalla made the other six points on a two-yard plunge in the second quarter.

The victory gave the Quakers a 4-4 record for the '62 campaign and it marked the third straight year that Coach Morton has guided Salem to a winning season.

Salem's hard working mentor has compiled an enviable 21 - 9 mark since taking over the reins from Sandusky Coach Earle Bruce in 1960.

THE QUAKERS scored the first time they got their hands on the football Friday night and controlled the contest in all but two minutes of the initial period.

Beery's touchdown climaxed a 15-play, 80-yard march. Crisp downfield blocking, plus the power running of Dave Capel, Dave Taus and Begalla ignited the rally.

When it appeared the drive might bog down, Beery cleverly executed the rollout series to get the necessary yardage for a first and ten.

Salem got a big break in the second session. Dover's kicker, back to punt, received a bad pass from center and was dropped on his own 39.

THE MORTONMEN took advantage of the situation and moved the distance in 11 plays, with Begalla smashing over from two yards out.

Dover threatened late in the second session and were at the Salem 12-yard line as the gun sounded for intermission.

The Tornadoes recovered a fumble on their own 46, and moved the pigskin to the Salem 12 in eight plays.

Coach Dick Haines' squad got a good break early in the fourth frame, when it blocked a Beery punt on the Salem 17.

The Quakers turned in by far their greatest defensive effort of the season at this point.

WITH THIRD and one at the eight, Dover lost two yards. Quarterback John Terakedis tried to make the necessary yardage on a keeper, but was dropped after a gain of one.

Terakedis tallied eight points in Dover's 30-6 victory over Salem last year.

Beery got the Quakers out of a hole twice during the final frame, with booming punts of 46 and 39 yards. He averaged 33 yards on four kicks during the contest.

Only a small crowd of 600 fans watched the game in the hard rain.

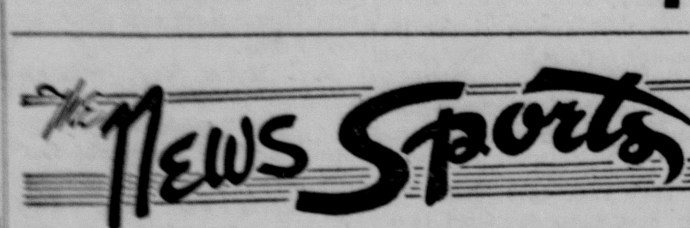

SALEM SOLVED the option series of Dover early in the fray. The Tornadoes made little on the ground around either of the Red and Black's defensive ends.

Seniors who appeared in a Salem uniform for the final game at Dover last night included Bob Melitshka, George Perrault, Tom Gibb, Lenny Filler, George Johnston, Rudy Hrovatic, Jim Morrison, Bill Winter, Tad Bonsall, Dick Stark, Beery, Capel and Taus.

Marlin Waller out with an injury, also ended his high school football career.

Northwestern Eyes Bowl Berth Today

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Rags-to-riches Northwestern reached its moment of decision today when it met strong Wisconsin in a battle that could send Northwestern to the threshold of the Rose Bowl.

Northwestern, No. 1 team in the country in The Associated Press poll, on a 6-0 record, came out of nowhere this year on the pin-point passing arm of Tom Myers.

But Wisconsin, loser only to Ohio State, and No. 8 in the poll, has been waiting to ambush Ara Parseghian's club. The Badgers think they have the answer to Myers in Ron Vanderkelen. Like Myers, he has gained more than 700 yards through the air.

If Northwestern gets past Wisconsin, it will only have to hurdle Michigan State to insure a spot in the Rose Bowl.

Matter of fact, Southern California, No. 2 in the country and the class of the Big Six, can take a giant step toward the host's spot in the Rose Bowl by stopping Stanford. The Indians are no easy marks, though. They upset both Michigan State and UCLA.

A victory over Stanford would leave only UCLA for Southern Cal to handle before looking to the bowl.

Meanwhile, Alabama, No. 3, and still hoping to win the national championship for the second straight year, had a date with tough Miami (Fla.) at Tuscaloosa.

The Crimson tide, unbeaten in 26 straight games, rated as a two-touchdown favorite. The game was expected to develop into a pitching duel between Joe Namath of Alabama and George Mira of Miami.

Mississippi, No. 4 in the country, figured to have no trouble with Chattanooga at Oxford, Miss.

Texas, No. 5 (6-0-1), and Arkansas, No. 6 (6-1), the two top

Leopards Still Cop Tri-County Loop Championship

Coach Glenn Sutherin's underdog Minerva Lions registered what was probably the biggest surprise in scholastic football Friday night as they battled the powerful Louisville Leopards to a 6-0 deadlock.

Although the Leopards' bid for a perfect season was spoiled, they still copped the Tri-County League crown with a 6-0-1 mark. Runnerup Columbiana, which bowed to the Stark County powerhouse 20-8 earlier in the season, smothered East Palestine last night 32-0 to end league play with a 6-0-1 record.

Louisville scored 315 points in its first nine outings while holding its foes to a measly 36 while the Lions entered the fray with a mediocre 6-2-1 season record. The Leopards were rated 14th in the state in the last Associated Press poll.

The game was an evenly played affair with the biggest part of the action taking place between the 40-yard lines. Louisville gained 96 yards in 32 plays while the host Lions moved the ball 112 yards in 35 attempts.

The game, like all other contests in the area, was played in a steady downpour of rain and tumbles were not infrequent. Minerva fumbled the ball eight times and lost it four and recovered two of Louisville's five miscues.

Both teams managed only one scoring threat. Minerva marched to the visitors' 12 late in the second period but the drive stalled and late in the final canto a Louisville drive was halted on the Lions' 16-yard stripe.

Both squads made their final appearance of the season last night.

Boston Is Matched With Denver Next

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Patriots and the Denver Broncos, the surprise teams of the league, match their explosive offenses at Denver Sunday in what could be a preview of the American Football League championship game.

It's a match of extremes and one that both division leaders need to preserve their title bids. The Patriots (5-2-1) are a half-game ahead of the two-time champion Houston Oilers in the East, while

Alliance Ties With Niles; Warren Wins

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toledo Central Catholic, with an assist from Alliance, inched nearer a possible state high school football championship Friday night, defeating Toledo Macomber 32-6.

While the Irish, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll of Ohio high school football teams, posted their ninth straight victory, the No. 2 team in the state, Niles McKinley, suffered its first mar on a 37-game unbeaten string since a 1960 tie with Farrell, Pa.

The Red Dragons, defending AP state champions, had to come from behind to tie Alliance 12-12. Third-ranked Lorain Adm. King had troubles too. It lost by a resounding 38-8 to eighth-ranked Sandusky.

This action this week wound up many scholastic football schedules and sports writers and broadcasters vote this weekend for the state champions.

Further, Massachusetts State Boxing Commission Chairman, Herman Greenberg, said it was "ridiculous to call Pender a champion if he is recognized in Massachusetts alone."

Pender had agreed to defend his title against Jose Torres, an unranked Puerto Rican. The New York commission refused to recognize it as a title bout. Finally, it was called off because Torres could not come up with the required $100,000 guarantee.

Denver (7-2) has two games remaining with the Dallas Texans, the nearest challenger in the Western Division.

While the leaders clash in the pressure cooker atmosphere of a "must" game, their closest rivals are heavily favored over less potent foes.

Houston, featuring George Blanda & Co., meets the winless Oakland Raiders and the Dallas Texans invade New York to play the erratic Titans. The Buffalo Bills are at San Diego to battle the Chargers.

Denver owns the AFL's top offense, directed by old pro Frank Tripucka and featuring the leading scorer (107 points) in versatile Gene Mingo.

Boston is last in the league in defense, yet the Patriots dealt Denver its worst loss of the campaign in an early season meeting at Boston, 41-16. To compensate for a sometimes porous defense, the Pats have generated a 29-point-a-game scoring average, best in the loop.

Commission Takes Title From Pender

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Pender today remained middleweight champion only of Massachusetts—and he may even lose his home state soon—but his attorney, breathing fire, threatened legal action.

In one long swoop, Pender was stripped Friday of the title by the New York State Athletic Commission, along with the European, British, Oriental and California commissions. All recognized Dick Tiger of Nigeria, already the champion of the World Boxing Association, the old National Boxing Association of the United States.

Pender first won a share of the title on Jan. 22, 1960 when he beat Sugar Ray Robinson in Boston. He lost it to Terry Downes in London on July 11, 1961, and won it back in Boston on April 7 of this year when he whipped Downes in a return bout.

Champions are supposed to defend their titles within six months. Since more than seven months has gone by, the ring bodies decided to act.

"I will take legal action if necessary," thundered John Cronin, Pender's attorney. "If Paul is deprived of his title, he also will be deprived of making a proper livelihood."

Melvin Krulewich, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, formally defrocked Pender. He said that he had consulted with all the other commissions in question and that the decision was unanimous.

Further, Massachusetts State Boxing Commission Chairman, Herman Greenberg, said it was "ridiculous to call Pender a champion if he is recognized in Massachusetts alone."

Pender had agreed to defend his title against Jose Torres, an unranked Puerto Rican. The New York commission refused to recognize it as a title bout. Finally, it was called off because Torres could not come up with the required $100,000 guarantee.

Murphys 4 TD's Win Scoring Title

Fullback Dale Murphy scored four touchdowns to spark Columbiana to a 32-0 victory over East Palestine in the season final for both schools at Firestone Park stadium in Columbiana Friday night.

It rained throughout the contest which caused considerable fumbling. Four East Palestine bobbles set up Columbiana TDs.

The Clippers finished the season with an 8-1 record, while Coach Rey Dempsey's Bulldogs ended up with a 4-6 mark.

The only sustained drive came in the third quarter when the Clippers marched 92 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown.

Neither team scored in the initial period as the two squads bat-

Waterford Will Honor Lisbon VFW

Racing Secretary Vince Mara, Jr. closed nominations for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Handicap, to be run at Waterford Park today and honoring the V. F. W. Post 4111 of Lisbon.

This is probably the most impressive handicap filled in this area for quite some time and is for three-year-olds and upwards to be contested at the mile and seventy yard distance.

Heading the list of nominees is North View Farms' first-starter at the meeting, Epee Bleu, a six-year-old horse, trained by P. F. Fischer and is expected to be ridden by Cecilio Chavez.

Other formidable opponents are Nardi and Galazia's Sierra's Cloud which has drawn top weight of 121 pounds and Time Off, racing in the silks of Mrs. A. Fabrizio and being asked to carry 120 pounds.

The remainder of the nominees are the entry of Anna Mae Kane and the Happy Hunting Stable, Boots Briar and Happy Hunting; Blue Supreme; Bestwater; Larlyn Stable's entry of Little Fury and R-Hit; Tennessee Dot, winner of last week's featured allowance affair; Disconcerted Frozen Fire and Pecos.

Highlight of the afternoon will be the display of the V.F.W. honor guard from Lisbon, under the supervision of Sergeant of the Color Guard Robert Kelm.

The entire post and their auxiliary are expected to turn out at Waterford Park for the auspicious occasion, celebrating Veterans Day on Saturday. The holiday falls on a Sunday this year but this group are celebrating it on Saturday although the legalized holiday is set for Monday, elsewhere.

Crestview Wins 7th, Shuts Out Sebring 8-0

Crestview High School, the most improved football team in the county this year, finished its season last night with a 2-0 victory over Sebring.

It was the seventh straight win for the Rebels who dropped their first three games to start the campaign.

Sebring finished with a 1-6-3 record.

U.S. Pair Keep 3 Stroke Lead In Canada Cup Golf

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—Distressed Arnold Palmer, fresh from some overnight tinkering with a balky, uncertain putter, tried again to tame the slick greens of the San Isidro course today in the third round of the Canada Cup and International Trophy Golf Championship.

Palmer, the PGA's leading money winner this year, had two three-putt greens Friday and four bogeys on the back nine alone as he carded a two-over-par 33-39—72 over the gently rolling, 6,746 yard course.

"Arnold, all you have to do is hole two long ones and you're off and running," veteran Sam Snead advised his partner in the international tourney.

"Yes," Palmer agreed, "but when am I going to get those two long ones?"

Palmer took his putter back to the hotel with him to make some adjustments on the grip.

His 72 gave him a 140 for two days. Snead, plagued with putting troubles the first day, fired a 65 Friday. Their combined score for the two days is 273, enough to retain their three-stroke lead over the pressing Australians. One stroke further back is Argentina.

Sixty-eight professionals two each from 34 nations, are competing in the tourney that ends Sunday. The United States is seeking its third straight victory.

Green Bay Seeks 9th In Row

Giants, Packers Near Loop Titles

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Green Bay Packers and New York Giants are winging their way toward a second successive meeting for the National Football League title, but the Giants may run into the heaviest flak concentration of the season Sunday in Dallas' Cotton Bowl.

While the defending champion Packers are given little to worry about in their visit with the Philadelphia Eagles, New York must gather its off-punctured defenses and battle the league's top offensive team.

A victory by the Giants and one by the Washington Redskins, who play host to Cleveland, would put New York in a highly favorable position to get its fifth Eastern Conference title in the past seven years. Washington is second in the East, a half game behind the Giants, while Dallas and Cleveland are tied for third, 1½ games back.

In other NFL weekend activity, Detroit (6-2) is at San Francisco (3-5), Baltimore (4-4) plays at Los Angeles (1-7), Pittsburgh (4-4) visits St. Louis (2-5-1) and the Minnesota Vikings (2-6) are at Chicago (4-4).

Eddie Lebaron, always a thorn in the side of the Giants, splits the Cowboys' quarterbacking with young Don Meredith. Lebaron is ranked No. 1 in the NFL's passing statistics.

The Packers are itching to avenge their 17-13 loss to the Eagles in the 1960 title game on the same Franklin Field gridiron. The same cast returns for the defending champions, but the poor Eagles (1-6-1) are well below their 1960 form, particularly on defense—and they must cope with a devastating offensive machine led by fullback Jim Taylor.

Baylor's 41 Pace Lakers Over Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Los Angeles' rebounding Lakers have served notice they've come all the way back from a four-game losing string that slowed them in the opening phase of the National Basketball Association season.

The Lakers got a 41-point performance from brilliant Elgin Baylor Friday night and beat the Boston Celtics 133-120.

The loss dropped the perennial champion Celtics into second place in the Eastern Division behind Syracuse, which scored a 101-93 triumph over St. Louis.

Cincinnati fought off a last-minute New York rally and broke a three-game losing string, 122-119. San Francisco overcame Chicago 134-126 in other NBA action. The Lakers, who lost the deciding seventh playoff game in overtime to Boston for the championship last season, won at the foul line. The Celtics outscored the Lakers 53-52 in field goals, but Los Angeles connected on 29 of 41 free throws while Boston hit only 14 of 21.

Browns' Fichtner Has Done Good Job at Defensive Safety

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ross Fichtner, playing his first year as a regular safety man for the Cleveland Browns, has taken to the position as if he intends to stay there.

Due largely to his efforts, the Browns have done a good job of ballhawking through the first eight games of the National Football League season. The Browns and the New York Giants both have 17 interceptions. Only the Green Bay Packers have more—24.

Fichtner will go against the Redskins in Washington Sunday with six thefts to his credit.

Other Browns with interceptions are Jim Shofer with three, Gary Fiss, Bernie Parrish and Vince Costello two each and Floyd Peters and Bobby Franklin one apiece.

Fichtner's mark ties him with Herb Adderley of the Packers for second place in the league. Willie Wood, also of Green Bay, leads in this department.

The Browns' theory for this year's improvement in getting between receiver and pass is more aggressive line play. The line has been rushing the quarterback more effectively.

TURKEY TALK

Turkey to all of us is as old and traditional as America's first Thanksgiving, when our Pilgrim Fathers chose to honor and praise the Almighty through keeping a day of feasting and Thanksgiving for the harvest He had given them.

Since they offered the best they had likewise behooves us to do the same for the Thanksgiving meal.

Because turkey is the most important item of the meal, we here at Witmer's have carefully selected the finest and broadest strains known to us, and have carefully fed and raised them so as to bring out the finest in taste and flavor.

So why not have a fine, fresh dressed turkey direct from Witmer's Farm, where you know their origin and are guaranteed to be good.
